

ABOUT US

Cecropia Solutions is a full service provider of custom software development and quality assurance with technology centres in Costa Rica and general office and sales centres in Austin, TX and Seattle, WA.

Cecropia provides full-time staff augmentation or project based engagements for clients needing custom technology solutions. Cecropia's experienced engineers are located in North American time zones.

Cecropia has extensive experience building virtual engineering teams for large US based software companies as well as enterprises within a variety of other industry verticals, leveraging Agile methodologies and expertise in a wide variety of development platforms.

OUR OFFER

Cecropia prides itself on delivering the highest quality development and QA services within a wide range of technology platforms to clients with whom they've developed long term, trust-based relationships. Cecropia is an Agile development shop with the ability to serve as an extension of larger, existing client teams or to lead new development or QA for clients that do not have an onshore technology team.

CLIENTS

Cecropia provides professional services to a wide variety of businesses and non-profits across the United States, having developed comprehensive solutions as an outsourced development resource for companies including Sony, Intuit, Pace Americas, ADT, Pentair, SolarWinds and Under Armour.
